Planters to increase the Crop.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

RALEIGH, N. C., March 16.—It appears certain that the tobacco crop will be larger than that set out last spring. High prices and a new market are the causes for the proposed increase. There is, hewever, disappointment among all the tobacco growers at the consolidation of the tobacco companies, though the consolidated companies are declaring that prices will not again reach the low figures of a few years ago, which so greatly reduced the acreage, and, in fact, caused great numbers of farmers to abandon tobacco growing for several seasons.

The movement of tobacco culture east ward stendily continues, and has now reached the coast, this being the point at which it originally started.

CROWD HERE ARE WORKING

Fighting for Jamestown Exposition Appropriation.

POLITICS IN THIS

ing Side by Side-Conference Held. Presided Over by President Fitzhugh Lee-Those Here.

The lobbies of the hotels fairly ewarmed last night with people from various parts of the State, who are here, either directly or indirectly, advocating a State appropriation to the Jamestown exposition.

This measure, which was reported from the House Committee on Finance by practically an unanimous vote, comes up in the House to-day as the special order is proposed to apropriate $200,000 on the installment plan. In other words been guaged as best it can be at this time and the money is to be paid annually.

Democrats and Republicans elbowed with each other in the lobby of Murphy's Hotel while they attempted to beat it into the heads of members of the General Assembly that the Commonwealth, in making this appropriation, would be sowing seed that must, in the nature of things, bring a rich harvest to the State "Dick" Marshall, Capt. Oscar Edwards, and other staunch Democrats from the Norfolk section, worked side by side with Mr. Alvah H. Martin, the Republican leader of Norfolk county, and Mr. D. ounty. For once political lines were disregarded.

There were in the lobby Gen. Stith Bolling, of Petersburg, Capt. Asa Rogers, of the same city, Mr. Joseph P. Brady, of Richmond, and other Republicans. They all said that politics had not caused them to meet together on this occasion. Gen. Bolling was in conference with some Confederate veterans. Capt. Rogers said he simply stayed over to "catch the late train." Mr. Brady was on his way home. These gentlemen are all thought to be heartlly in favor of this bill.

Hon. Joseph T. Lawless, full of energy and grit, was on hand; Mr. Thomas J. Wool, the young lawyer of classic features, who can get up before an audionce and by the employment and use of "logio" accomplish results, was much in evidence, Mr. D. Lowenberg, the director-general of the proposed exposition, moved about serene, and with the air of the man who says, "We have a good thing up our sleeve and are going to let it out."

thing up our steere it out."

Stroking his beard, and speaking with deliberation, Mr. Lowenberg said to a Times-Dispatch man: "I cannot say much now. All I can tell you is that we think this exposition would handsomely repay our State for the money that is proposed to be invested. When we have a chance to let water come down the hill by grawitation, isn't it better and cheaper than to construct costly works and carry it up hill? Do you catch the idea?" he asked, with a twinkle of his eye. his eye.

TARIFF AND

the next battle is fought for the presi-dency and the control of the lower house of Congress. ciples in his soul can halt or hesitate when the party summons him to this contest?

"Associated with the trust issue is the old but ever living tariff question. Why should the tariff continue to create and shelter so many trusts? Many Republicans concede that there is urgent need for a revision of the tariff; but they must depend upon the Democratic party for it; the bosses of their own party will have none of it; will "stand pat." No honest industry, no honest man, need fear from the revision. None but those whose ways are meanly selfish and whose purposes are unpatriotic need oppose it.

"And what manner of Democrat is he who would not join his fellows in a determined effort to stop the extravagance and waste and corruption inseparable from continued Republican supremacy?

Time and events will point out the men for us in 190. What thoughtful man can doubt that he must be one who was in the Democratic column in '96, and again in 1900? This is not only instice, but it is necessity as well. Be assured the man of the hour will be found; and meanwhile lot us strive to heal-sores, not to tear open old wounds. Let us inviter ceruits to join the party, and not do anything in folly or bitterness to drive them from it. Let us rally where the purty thing in folly or bitterness to drive them from it.
